An encyclopedia or encyclopædia is a reference work or compendium providing summaries of knowledge from either all branches or from a particular field or discipline. Encyclopedias are divided into articles or entries that are often arranged alphabetically by article name and sometimes by thematic categories. Encyclopedia entries are longer and more detailed than those in most dictionaries.

Ancient philosophical theories of soul are in many respects sensitive to ways of speaking and thinking about the soul [ψυχή] that are not specifically philosophical or theoretical. We therefore begin with what the word ψυχή meant to speakers of Classical Greek, and what it would have been natural to think about and associate with the soul.

A movie camera or video camera takes pictures very quickly, usually at 24 or 25 pictures (frames) every second. When a movie projector, a computer, or a television shows the pictures at that rate, it looks like the things shown in the set of pictures are really moving. Sound is either recorded at the same time, or added later. The sounds in a movie usually include the sounds of people talking ...
